6.4 Graduate lecturing

- Sometime in 2021 - depending on the pandemic: guest lecturer (5 hours) at the Summer School Singular Integrals on nilpotent Lie groups and related topics, Mathematical Institute of Göttingen (Germany), <https://jaeh.cc/SS2021/index.htm>.
- 21 - 27 June 2017: Lecture (4 hours), Harmonic analysis on Lie groups and quantization, I Mesoamerican School on Modern Mathematics in Theoretical Physics, Mesoamerican Centre for Theoretical Physics, Chiapas (Mexico).
- Spring and Autumn 2014: two postgraduate lecture courses Pseudo-differential operators at the Taught Course Centre, Imperial College London, broadcasted in Bath, Bristol, Oxford, and Warwick. With lecture notes and exams.
- 24 - 27 March 2015: Intensive postgraduate course (12 hours), Classical and modern aspects of harmonic analysis, University of Aveiro, Portugal.
- 25 - 26 May 2011: Intensive postgraduate lecture course Harmonic analysis on nilpotent Lie groups at the London Taught Course Centre, (12 hours). With lecture notes.

6.5 PhD supervision

- Lead supervisor for Oissin O’Donnell (December 2020 - September 2021).
- Lead supervisor for Pablo Vinuesa at the University of Bath (PhD awarded in 2021).
- Co-supervision of Kieran Jarett (successful viva in July 2018) who was the PhD student of Professor Anthony Dooley when Professor Dooley left Bath for Australia in the autumn 2015. I have had also minor administrative roles for other PhD students at Bath.

- As a research associate at Imperial College (2013 - 2015), I mentored the PhD students of my team and I co-supervised very closely three of them: David Rottensteiner (PhD awarded in October 2014 - I gave him his PhD subject before starting at Imperial), Chiara Taranto (PhD awarded in December 2015) and Khoi Nguyen (PhD awarded in November 2016). Chiara spent 9 months at Bath (October 2015 - June 2016) with me to finish her PhD thesis and as a casual teaching and research assistant to write our paper. Khoi visited me at Bath, and we discussed on Skype regularly to finish his PhD thesis.
